MAJOR DUTIES:

The Nurse Practitioner (NP) practices in the Neurology and Seizure Clinics within Epilepsy Center of Excellence (ECoE) and Neurology Services, Mental Health and Neuroscience Division of the Portland VA Medical Center. The NP functions with delineated clinical privileges granted by the Executive Committee of the Medical Staff. The Epilepsy Nurse Practitioner provides primary care to adults with Epilepsy and/or related disorders in an outpatient setting. Primary care includes assessment, diagnosis and treatment of health care problems. This includes the following: initiating and adjusting therapeutic regimens, performing histories and physicals, ordering diagnostic and therapeutic tests/studies, initiating consults and referrals and prescribing medications/supplies in accordance with VA policy, VA formulary and State regulations. In addition, the NP serves as a consultant to nursing, as well as medical staff for patients with complex treatment of care needs. The NP works collaboratively with other interdisciplinary team members in providing quality care, and patient education to patients, participating in research activities, and additionally, assisting patients in acute and chronic rehabilitation techniques. The NP provides nursing education on the epilepsy inpatient unit, and helps to develop expanded patient care programs in the outpatient setting. The NP serves on Medical Center committees/task groups, and assists in the development, evaluation, and communication of policies and standards of nursing practice for neuroscience nursing. The NP may supervise nursing graduate interns.
