MAJOR DUTIES:

The Clinical Nurse Specialist (CNS) practices at the Portland VA Medical Center within Inpatient and Emergency Services Division. Program development, implementation, and evaluation activities include specific domains for chronic disease management and highly complex patient cohorts with a focus on population management, protocol development, care coordination, and transitional care coordination. The CNS works collaboratively with other interdisciplinary team members throughout the health care system including outpatient, home health, and transitional care in supporting a Patient Centered Medical Home Model by improving patient-driven, quality care, and education. The CNS serves as an expert clinician and consultant to nurses, medical staff, and other healthcare providers for patients with complex treatment needs. The CNS also serves as a consultant for system issues, outcome measurement and product evaluation. The CNS shares in the development, evaluation, and communication of standards and plans of care policies and procedures and informatics; serves on designated committees and task forces, and participates in research and promotion of evidence based practice.
